A Tucsonan in Cuba (Un Tucsonense en Cuba)

Tom Miller has been visiting Cuba regularly since 1987 on writing assignments, to visit family, and to lead educational trips on behalf of the National Geographic Society. He is most intrigued with the cultural and political contradictions he has observed over the years, during which he has gained an intimate understanding of life on the island. He will share his expertise with us and answer questions about travel to the island.

Tom is the author of the book Trading With the Enemy: A Yankee Travels Through Castro's Cuba—described by the Lonely Planet Travel Series as maybe “the best travel book about Cuba ever written.”
